

Adonde Vamos?

By LANGLOIS

When a fellow gets along in life to the point where his life expectancy in years may be counted on the fingers of his two hands, excluding the thumbs, he then realizes when Thanksgiving comes how much he has to be thankful for.

This Thanksgiving just past, brought that fact more clearly to me than all the past Thanksgivings put together. Perhaps the day has something to do with it. Sitting under the trees in our backyard, while the autumn leaves dropped with every gentle breeze, it began to dawn upon me just how many blessings I really had. First, to be able to say I'm a Californian, because no matter where you might have been on that day could any other state or nation put forth a fairer summer day? Through the windows I could see the lady who has put up with me these many years at one of the favorite tasks getting a 28 lb. turkey with the trimmings ready. The schoolmates of my son and daughter coming in and out, my friends, who are also my business associates, doing their share in this, while I sat in comfort adding up my blessings.

I have two sons and one daughter still at home. Looking at these young people and their friends, brought vividly to my mind how fast time goes by. Seems only yesterday that these young people were toddling around my knees.

What other state can boast of a juster generation than these coming Californians? They top their immediate ancestors by many pounds and inches, and though we have to look up to their superior height, we still regard them as children. They have reached the age now where they are amazed at how much paw and maw have learned in the past few years, while paw, figuring on the allotted span of three score and ten, has suddenly come to realize how little he knows and how few are the fleeting years left to add to his meagre knowledge. No way of getting around the fact that the older one gets, the fact becomes more and more evident that one knows nothing. So if he arrives at that conclusion when on the lap to the seventies, he had just as well realize the remaining years will add but little to his knowledge.

That point settled, thoughts wander back over the past to the times when as a boy he watched mother, grandmaw and his aunts prepare the Thanksgiving turkey. Has the world grown better, the answer is 'Yes' as far as turkeys are concerned. As a boy I watched paw, grandpaw or some uncles, depending where we were on Thanksgiving, carve the turkey. About three slices off the breast, he was on the breastbone. Today a man can carve slice after slice from these broadbreasted turkeys to load a platter from one side of the breast only.

We ruminate some more. Where can you get a better bird than right here in San Diego County, so again we add another count for our native State. It occurs to us that our State has also produced a native son, who two years hence may head our nation. As governor of our State, his record has gained support from California by a majority of over a million, regardless of party. So more and more will the nation come to realize that in national affairs, California will have to be reckoned with.

The afternoon passes all too quickly, we are called in to do our share in this meal. We carve. We eat, but past discomforts have taught us to use discretion in this matter. The meal winds up to a pleasant close. One of our sons, who has sunk into an armchair, makes a noise like a peanut whistle. It does not surprise me, inasmuch as he went rabbit hunting at 2 a.m. after we had the paper off the press. Accompanied by one of his school friends, who is also a member of the staff, they ran out of gas near El Capitan, so spent the night in the car, walking home at 7 a.m. to pick up the old man's car.

Someone turns on the radio, a blast of nauseating commercials thins the air. We are urged to hurry and buy now. This causes me to ask, "Why are pianos used to clutter up the house. No one ever uses it despite the fact that the wife knows how, one of the partners knows how, to say nothing of their daughter, who is asked to give her talents whenever a pianist is needed. That radio trash near ruined the day, but the lady of the house saved it by suggesting some singing. Mary Ann gets to the piano, the men gather round and the old man hears some music. This makes me forget the insult to my intelligence, that is offered every time one turns the button on a radio. Still these characters wonder why 75% of the population is not longer interested in the average radio program. It's been too nice a day to get all het up, and as Paul says, "You can turn it off as quick as you can turn it on." Now, my day has been the picture of the average American's.

As the year 1950 dwindles away, I realize more and more why it is necessary to go all out, if we are going to continue our way of life. Other English speaking lands offer freedom of word, thought and press. Their ability to do this depends on America. We make many mistakes, but one who never makes

Memorial Bldg. Use To Be Discussed

What can the Memorial Building be used for? Who may use it? What is the rent charged? Is anyone exempt from paying rent? What is the policy regarding alcoholic beverages? Will there be a permanent caretaker in charge? If so, what should be the qualifications and salary? What is the heat to be supplied during winter months? Are kitchen facilities available? These and many other questions concerning use of Memorial Building will be discussed at a meeting Monday evening, Dec. 4, at 8 p.m. in the Scout Hut.

Every Lakeside organization is urged to have their chairman or a substitute at this meeting which is being called by the Lakeside Memorial Foundation Committee, Les Kephart, chairman.

FARM BUREAU TO INSTALL OFFICERS

The regular meeting of the Lakeside Farm Bureau will be held Thursday, Dec. 17, in the War Memorial Building.

Potluck supper, beginning at 7 p.m., will precede the meeting. Installation of officers will take place.

It is hoped every member will turn out and show the new center chairman, C. H. Foster, that the organization is behind him one hundred per cent.

Lakeside's Entry Wins Parade Award

The handsome trophy now on display in Huffman's window was awarded to Lakeside's entry in the recent Mother Goose Parade in El Cajon.

Sponsored by Mrs. John O. Kellogg, Lakeview rd., the entry entitled "Yankee Doodle," has been the subject of much praise by parade officials and those who witnessed the spectacle. "Yankee Doodle" (Kendrick Kellogg), mounted on a white horse, was surrounded by a group of 40 girls dressed in white robes, wearing silver tiaras and banners proclaiming them to be "Miss Liberty." Five girls carried cleverly lighted torches symbolical of the five points in the Liberty Star.

A banner approximately 120 feet long printed in patriotic colors with the Yankee Doodle jingle, was held in a "V" formation by the marching girls. Thirty-seven of the group were from the Seventh and Eighth Grades at Lakeside School. Four were from Grossmont, including the leader, Darlene Harvey, from the Senior Class.

The robes and tiaras were assembled by a committee of mothers including Mrs. E. G. Gimble, Gayle Van Sickle, Dexter Donahoe and Frank Ward. Also assisting with the project was Mrs. Grace Boyer, now absent because of illness, who was the faculty advisor for the Seventh and Eighth Grades.

The banner and many other details of the entry were prepared by Mrs. Kellogg.

The trophy depicts a prancing drum major of gold metal mounted on a column of hardwood with a golden goose standing guard at the base. The overall height is approximately 16 inches.

a mistake, never makes anything. Summing up, I can say with the same pride as he who said, "I am a Roman citizen," I can say also, "Thanks, Great Spirit, for the privilege of being a Californian. Thanks for my State being one of the units in the American Federation."

"Thanks for my home, my helpmate, my sons and daughters and their friends. "Thanks for my right to make a living with associates who are old friends, who overlook my peevish and eccentricities, and make all effort to make us a going concern."

"Thanks for being a Californian, living in his native state. Last, but not least, "thanks to the American mattress makers that make it possible for a Californian to get a good night's sleep, (providing he doesn't take his work to bed with him), because I am more than positive I could not get any rest on the cornshuck mattress of my boyhood days, where no matter what position you took, nor how much you shook it, there was always a couple of nubbins sticking you someplace. Thanks again."

Nativity Scene Unveiled Dec. 16

Lakeside's fifth annual Nativity Scene, sponsored by the Woman's Club, Chamber of Commerce and other groups, will be opened at 7 p.m., December 16, with an interesting program and carol singing.

As in previous years, live sheep and a baby burro will add realism to the scene. A public address system, furnished by Charles Snyder, will amplify recordings and Christmas carols, interspersed with local programs.

Mrs. Ella Merritt, creator of the Nativity Scene, will arrange the figures in the Holy Tableau in an unusual and beautiful manner. Directional signs at the corner of Maine and Woodside will point the way to the Nativity Scene. It will be open nightly from 6 to 11 o'clock, with the exception of opening night, which will be 7 p.m.

On Sundays and Christmas and New Year's Day the Scene will be open during the day.

Voters OK School Building Program

By a vote of 362 in favor and 12 opposed the citizens of Lakeside indicated their desire for better schools in the community. The vote authorized the Lakeside School District to accept $850,000 from the State of California for building needed school facilities.

In a statement Wednesday E. M. Walker, district superintendent, expressed gratification at the outcome of the election.

He said that the assistance of PTA members and other interested individuals did much to assure the success of the issue and is greatly appreciated by the trustees and school personnel.

Work will start within six weeks at the Lakeside site. Grading and playground work will be followed in four or five months by the construction of a kindergarten, three classrooms, an administrative unit, girls shower and locker rooms, boys shower and locker rooms, girls home science facilities and boys shop.

Four classrooms and a multiple use cafeteria are to be constructed on the Lindo Park site and a small administrative office at Woodside and Prospect.

It is hoped the units can be completed in 12 months. The second or "B" part of the district's building program will include the demolition of the old auditorium at the Lakeside School and the construction of additional classrooms and an auditorium. That work may be delayed until other construction is completed.

Mr. Walker added a reminder to Lakeside voters of the importance of the Grossmont bond election December 5. The polling place for the Lakeside area will be at the Lakeside School.

Couple Celebrates 53rd Anniversary

Thanksgiving day had a special meaning for Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Yogerster of Woodside avenue, who were their 53rd wedding anniversary. The couple was married in Springfield, Ill., November 23, 1897.

After attending Thanksgiving mass, where they received congratulations from many friends, they were host and hostess at an anniversary dinner at their home.

Their three children living in various parts of the country were unable to attend, but a grandson, W. C. Crawford, and a granddaughter, Mrs. M. T. Hannibal, with their respective families made a happy group for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Hannibal and daughters are making their home with the Yogersters while their own home is being repaired after a recent fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Crawford live in Fresno.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ditto of Salem, Oregon, were recent visitors at the home of their nephew, Frank Gander, on Julian ave. Mr. Ditto, 79 years old, did all of the driving on their trip from Oregon and plans to continue on and visit his three sisters at Houston, Tex., Pensacola, Fla., and Neodesha, Kas., before returning to Oregon in the spring.

Great-grandpa Conrad enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner at the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Williamson in San Diego.

Of the 24 attending the family dinner, nine were grandchildren and seven were great-grandchildren of Mr. Conrad.

Indians Began Working With Silver And Turquoise Less Than 100 Years Ago

Not a single piece of the silver-turquoise combination Indian jewelry can be classified as an antique, according to Norman Sandburg of the Navajo Indian Trading Post in Pine Valley, because none of it is yet a hundred years old.

The Indians did not begin working with silver until about 85 years ago, and it has been less than 45 years since they learned to set turquoise stones in the silver, he explained.

It is not known who taught the Indians to work with silver in the beginning, or who introduced stone-setting techniques to them 40 years later. It is assumed that a roving Mexican silver and wood-worker drifted into one of the camps and eventually instructed them in this work.

When the Indians first began working with silver they used U.S. half-dollars and silver dollars. Mr. Sandburg pointed out, heedless of the fact that it was against the law to mutilate these coins. When they found it no longer profitable to use these coins, since traders had been warned by the government not to accept such jewelry in trade, they began using Mexican pesos in great quantities.

In order to stop this practice of using foreign coins also, the U.S. government finally agreed to supply silver to the Indians for their work. The silver they are now provided with is 1 1/2 points finer even than sterling.

IT'S TIME TO END PETTY THIEVERY

When does patience cease to be a virtue? From the amount of thieving at Grossmont it appears to us that it is time firm steps were taken to put a stop to it. It is difficult enough for the average taxpayer to meet the taxes necessary to maintain our high school without having to be told by his offspring a half dozen times during a semester that someone stole his track shoes, her coat, sweater or whatever the youngster may have taken off for a few minutes.

This week a young lady of our acquaintance left her purse lying on her books for a period of something less than five minutes. The purse contained a sum of money, her glasses and driver's license. When she returned the purse was gone, as was the purse of another young lady. We have almost daily reports of the loss of various articles of clothing. When anything is said about this, the answer always is, "Oh it happens all the time—nothing can be done about it." We suggest a more positive approach, stressing the fundamental that honesty is still the best policy—and backing it up with strict law enforcement measures. If other schools can set traps to catch petty thieves, so can Grossmont. A high school organization modeled along the lines of our excellent FBI has been suggested.

Parents are getting tired of re-buying equipment for this or that class or activity. To put a stop to this rampant thievery, we suggest a conference with the Sheriff's office or an interview with El Cajon's Chief of Police Rex Huffman, who has constructive ideas on methods of catching thieves.

Birthdays Number 92

MRS. MARY A. ROSS

Mrs. Mary A. Ross celebrated her 92nd birthday November 27. Several friends dropped in bringing gifts. Mrs. H. E. Rawlings brought a beautiful homemade decorated cake. Mrs. Hale Whitaker, Mrs. Nellie Schamke and Mrs. Otto Elner all brought lovely gifts. A shower of cards was received.

Meeting Called on Street Decorating

A project is under way to erect and decorate a large community Christmas tree in Lakeside.

There has also been considerable discussion of decorating Maine ave.

Stanley Conant, chairman of a Chamber of Commerce committee to make arrangements for securing and erecting the tree, has been busy on the project.

To discuss this and other suggestions for Christmas decorations, he has called for a meeting of the Christmas Decorating Committee this Friday night, Dec. 1, 7 p.m., at Kiwanis Hall.

A representative from each civic organization is requested to attend.

Ramblin' Around

It seems that Bob Conley DID kill a deer while on their recent trip to New Mexico. It weighed over 125 lbs. dressed.

Zucchini doesn't seem to be too popular a vegetable in these parts, and we wonder why. It's the most tasty of all squash, when cooked for a very few minutes and seasoned properly. Thanks, Leonard Philbrook, for your generous samples of this vegetable. We also recommend the 65-cent luncheon being served at the Lakeside Inn, under the new management of Miss Cecilia Russo and Mrs. K. Bilbre.

We know a guy who was plenty happy that he took a chance. Richard Clevenger won that handsome (and tasty) 16-lb. turkey, plus all the trimmings, for a shape-ruining Thanksgiving feed. Aren't you glad, Richard? Eldred Huffman talked you into that Opti-Mix ticket? Seems like Lakeside is pretty lucky. Those same Opti-Mix are hunting for a needy family to give their three Christmas baskets to. They would appreciate a tip from anyone in the know. Call Mrs. Polk at the Star office. It is possible that lucky Lakeside hasn't a single family in need at this time?

Santa Claus Coming To Lakeside Stores

Santa Claus is going to spend a lot of time in Lakeside the week before Christmas.

Two Lakeside businessmen called him up long distance last week and Santa has agreed to spend every afternoon here, starting Monday, Dec. 18.

On that day he will be at Huffman's Department Store from 1 to 6 and on Tuesday he will be at the M & H Market the same hours. Wednesday he will be back at Huffman's and Thursday back to the M & H, alternating again for the last two days in the week.

Santa wants to find out what the youngsters of Lakeside want for Christmas so he can get the orders into his toy shop which is now going full blast.

TALK THINGS OVER

He will talk things over with all youngsters who come to visit him at either Huffman's or the M & H stores in Lakeside.

He will also present each youngster with a candy.

Santa is spending a lot of time in Lakeside this year. He will be back again late Sunday afternoon, arriving by helicopter for a big outdoor party at Lindo Lake Park, which is being put on by the Lakeside Kiwanis Club.

It is hoped that several hundred youngsters will be on hand to welcome Santa Claus as he steps from his helicopter.

Monte Hall will be master of ceremonies and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Allen will entertain with trick roping. Santa never comes empty-handed and will have presents for the kiddies.

USS Union Returns From Korean Duty

Alfred Creekmore, Jr., BPS USN, husband of Mrs. A. Creekmore of P.O. Box 237, Lakeside, California, arrived back in the United States last week in the seven months of action in the Korean War. He was aboard the attack cargo ship USS Union, a unit of the Pacific Fleet Amphibious Force, which docked at the Naval Air Station.

On hand to greet crew-members of the Union were Rear Admiral J. N. Kiland, commander of the Pacific Fleet Amphibious Force, members of his staff, and wives and relatives of many of the bluejackets returning from combat. Large signs reading "Welcome Home" and "Well Done," traditionally the Navy's highest praise, decorated the pier as the ship drew into her berth.

The Union was among the first in the Pacific Fleet to engage in operations against Korean Communists. She left San Diego early in April as a part of amphibious group One, headed by Rear Admiral J. H. Doyle, to train elements of the Eighth Army in Japan in amphibious techniques.

The Red invasion of South Korea brought a hasty end to the scheduled training program and the Union was pressed into combat service carrying U. S. troops from Japan to Korea. It was among the ships of the Pacific Fleet Amphibious Force which took part in the large scale invasion of Inchon, which proved to be the turning point of the war in Korea. Most recently, the Union was among the amphibious vessels which landed supplies at the thickly mined port of Wonsan to support the rapid advance of U. S. troops.

Commissioned at Hoboken, N. J., on April 25, 1945, the Union had only a small part in World War II. She has served in the Pacific since her commissioning and has made many transoceanic voyages visiting such ports as Saipan, Samar and Takurab, China.

In 1947 the Union made her first trip to Point Barrow, Alaska, in the re-supply expedition. She participated in this expedition each year thereafter and during "Barex-49" (the Navy's term for the annual run) the crew of the Union turned in one of its outstanding performances. Working around the clock with the aid of the midnight sun, it unloaded 5,881 tons of cargo in a record time of 73 hours.

The Union will remain in San Diego for a short while before entering a West Coast Navy yard for routine overhaul.

Ray F. Schlegel Family Win Television Set

Mr. and Mrs. Ray F. Schlegel, Route 1, Lakeside, and their family of three boys and two girls, are the winners of the television set given away at the M & H Market November 25.

To Make Gifts at Christmas Workshop

A Christmas workshop of special interest to Scout leaders and committee members will be held Friday, Dec. 1, at 10 a.m. in the Lakeside Community Church for District 2 of the San Diego Girl Scout Council.

Participants are asked to bring their own scissors, ruler, pencil, notebook and a sack lunch. Coffee and dessert will be served at noon.

Mrs. Gimble asks each one to also bring a small, new memorandum book with a paper cover. They will be converted into attractive gift items by decorating the cover in an individual way.

The El Capitan Neighborhood meeting will follow at 1 p.m. There will be election of officers.

El Cajon Elks Have Hospital Project

Several members of El Cajon Lodge of Elks visited the Naval Hospital in San Diego Monday to award prizes in a wood carving contest, participated in by a hundred servicemen patients.

J. H. Blaha of the Lodge's Veterans Service Committee headed the group from El Cajon. After the judging, they personally gave the prize-winners in three classes engraved Ronson lighters. All were bed patients.

The articles carved were of ships, wheeled vehicles or model planes and represented untold hours of painstaking work.

Two inter-club activities of the local lodge are bowling and a rifle club. The latter took second place in a match at Escondido Sunday.

A gala New Year's party is being planned for Valley Elks, their wives and guests.

This Saturday there will be another potluck dinner and social meeting at the Lodge hall.

The El Cajon Valley Band held the first of its weekly rehearsals at the Club last Tuesday.

Get Aunt Susie's Gift In the Mail NOW!

You can help spare your mail carrier's achin' back and his bunions—and incidentally speed delivery of your Christmas cards and packages—by heeding the following Postoffice Department suggestions:

1—Shop now—get your Christmas mail and packages off as early as possible.

2—Wrap your gifts carefully. Address them plainly — Aunt Susie may be able to decipher your handwriting, but not all postmen carry magnifying glasses and crystal balls. Register valuable letters. Insure valuable packages.

3—Be sure to put the full address on each piece of mail. Include city zone numbers.

4—Send your Christmas cards by first class mail. Put a 3-cent stamp on every Christmas card and seal the envelopes. They are more personal that way, and if your friend has moved, the card will be forwarded. Third-class mail doesn't have that privilege.

State to Drop Plan for Island

EL CAJON — Islands on Main st. brought State Engineer Wallace before the Council Monday night. Speaking on the subject, Mr. Wallace stated that much work and expense had been spent in preparing these plans, and that no opposition had been expected.

He intimated that he would not press the matter against this opposition; also that the City would not have a curved four-lane highway from where the present curbing ends to Second st. This was part of the island plan, which if abandoned, the City would have to do at its own expense.

As the matter stands now a majority of El Cajon taxpayers and service clubs are opposed to the island plan. What would be the effect on the City business should the State re-route the Highway to miss El Cajon is a matter of conjecture.

Many businessmen feel that it would benefit the city, and state that cars coming from eastern or western points whiz through without stopping. On the other hand is the view of those who claim that the busy appearance of Main st. has done much to attract outside capital.

Dudley's Discontinue Dining Room Service

After serving the Valley and people from all parts of San Diego County with dinners and luncheons for the past five years, Dudley's Dining Room, 421 E. Main st., El Cajon, will discontinue this service Sunday, Dec. 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley, Pugh owners and operators have decided to go into the bakery business.

Their plans are to have a sandwich and cold drink counter in the front part of the building they now occupy while the bakery will be in the rear.

TO DRILL TEST WELL ON SHORE OF LINDO LAKE

A recommendation that the County's next attempt to drill a well for Lindo Lake be in the vicinity of the lake basin itself was adopted Wednesday evening at a special meeting of the Lakeside Chamber of Commerce.

The recommendation followed a lengthy discussion. The motion calling for a vote on the recommendation was made by Allen G. Mitchell and seconded by F. L. Boyd. It has been forwarded to the County Department of Public Works for action.

The meeting was attended by W. A. Barney, chief engineer, and R. S. Goodwin, engineer, from the County Public Works Department.

They indicated that steps would be taken at once to put down a test well at the most likely location on the shore of Lindo Lake.

A bored hole, 100 feet in depth, sufficient for a test, can be drilled for approximately $500, the Star was informed today.

A 100-gal. per minute well is estimated to be sufficient to maintain the level of Lindo Lake, once it is filled. The County was shooting for a 400-gal. per min. well in its first attempt on the fringe of Cactus Park. Had it been successful, there would have been enough water to develop both parks. At least one County Supervisor believes Cactus Park is a liability, rather than an asset. He suggested at a recent meeting that it be "turned back to the owners."

I. ROTTMAN INSISTS "WATER IS THERE"

I. Rottman, well locator, upon whose advice the County drilled the first well, that proved inadequate, still insists a large flow of water is there at a lower level.

In a telephone message to the Star Wednesday, Mr. Rottman said, "We just brought in well No. 5 on the Harold Grade in the Tia Juana Valley. At 107 feet, instead of making 1400 gals., which I predicted, it is bringing in better than 2,000,000 gals. a day. Your well in Lakeside would have been equally as big if they had gone down

First "Pop" Concert This Friday at Russ

Soloist on the first "pops" which are sub-titled "dollar symphonies," inasmuch as all seats are priced at one dollar plus tax—will be an outstanding interpreter of American music, pianist Robert Turner.

Seats at the San Diego Philharmonic's "pops" will not be reserved, but will be on a first-come, first-served basis. Tickets are now on sale at the Philharmonic Box Office in the Southern California Music Co., 630 "C" st., San Diego.

Homebuilders Class Has Quilting Party

Mrs. Myrtle Merchant was hostess chairman at the November 22 meeting of the Homebuilders class at the social hall of the First Baptist Church. Members quilted during the morning hours, and enjoyed a covered dish luncheon at noon.

The luncheon table was centered with a large bowl of pink cosmos. Autumn leaves, smilax and holly completed the table decorations.

Mrs. C. R. Murphy presided at a short business meeting, followed by an hour of Thanksgiving games with Mrs. A. W. Wind in charge.

Bethel Order Observes "Church Day" at Alpine

Miss Opal Lawson of El Cajon Bethel, guest soloist, sang, "O Eyes That are Weary."

Air Fare

By

The television industry is home from the first big spending spree of its youth hoping it can somehow sleep the thing off. But the bills will be pouring in on every mail for some time to come.

NBC-TV's operational losses for the year are $2,500,000. The net hopes it can hold them to that figure through the last few weeks of 1950, but whether it can is doubtful.

The industry has lost an expensive argument to TV actors. Threatened with a strike last week, the networks finally agreed to pay Television Authority actors $170 for five or more lines on an hour show; $200 for a single specialty act; $475 for a four-minute, and $100 for each additional performer; $200 an event for a sportscaster, or $350 a week to a sportscaster covering seven events in the same sport.

CBS-TV estimated the new rates would double program costs. The Dumont Network figured it would hike operational costs by $2,000,000 a year.

If the actors had the idea that the nets were made of money, the nets had no one to blame but themselves.

In the first rush for television audience the TV nets came out slugging all prospective talent with sacks full of coin. If a star showed hesitation, the nets didn't wait to find out whether he was speechless over the fantastically high price he was being offered. They quickly suggested more.

At the height of the folly TV programs tried to outbid each other for guest stars with prices soaring as high as $5000 for a single performance. Meltdown by its deficit spending the industry now seems to have settled on a $2500 top. But it took a sea of unbalanced budgets to convince television that $5000 is quite a piece of change.

Prices for backstage personnel have been just as fabulous. The nets have bid each other into paying $25,000 to $35,000 a year for executives and production supervisors.

To give you an idea of how fast the costs multiply, here is a list of the personnel that was never seen on the air but was nevertheless paid to produce the first Jimmy Durante TV show: staging services coordinator, assistant, video engineer, audio engineer, maintenance man, floor manager, floor manager, make-up supervisor, wardrobe supervisor, assistant, stage manager, studio supervisor, chief carpenter, chief propertyman, chief electrician, assistant, house manager, administrative assistant to NBC production supervisor, coordinator of press, promotion and commercials, business manager, production assistant, two chief arrangers, a cameraman and a copyist.

Dec. 5 Delinquency Date on Co. Taxes

This coming Tuesday is December 5, the delinquency date on the first installment of County and special district taxes, and after that date a 6% penalty must be added to the first installment of taxes remaining unpaid, County Tax Collector Raymond B. Talbot, advised this week.

If there is any property owner who has not received his real estate tax bill he should get in touch with the County Tax Collector's office immediately by telephone, letter, or come personally to 110 Civic Center, San Diego. All bills with addresses have been mailed and it is the property owner's responsibility to see that he gets a bill in time for payment without penalty. Quite a number of tax bills are now on hand in the Tax Office which cannot be mailed because no address has been furnished by the property owner. The State's lien attaches as provided by law regardless of whether the taxpayer received his bill and did not pay or did not try to obtain his tax bill at the Tax Office.

It is recommended to those who intend to mail in their remittances that they do so not later than December 3 or 4, to insure the envelopes being postmarked not later than December 5th, because a penalty must be added in case of postmark after that date. Mail your remittances right now and do not put it off and possibly forget it until too late.

The real strength of a steel and concrete structure lies in the hands of the men who build it.

Plan Series of Three All-County Meetings

Plans for an expanded county-wide get-together program during 1951 were revealed today by Graydon Hoffman, president of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce.

A series of three meetings with leading County citizens is scheduled to take place in the northern, eastern and southern sections of the county within the next few months. Invited to these meetings will be members of the boards of directors of the chambers of commerce in the county communities, representatives of the press, mayors and city council of the incorporated areas, and the County Board of Supervisors as well as the boards of directors of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce and San Diego County Development Federation. Ted Haaf, president of the San Diego County Development Federation, stated that the federation wholeheartedly endorses this series of chamber get-togethers. "The job of the Development Federation now will be made many times easier," Mr. Haaf said, "with the various chambers of commerce throughout the county pulling together for the same end."

Couple Celebrates 45th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Phillips celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary last Wednesday evening.

They were invited to have dinner at the home of their youngest daughter, Mrs. Wilson White. While enjoying their dinner, the telephone rang and the Phillips and Whites were invited to the Harvey Huffmans' home to witness the Christmas Tree Lane Parade on television. While enjoying the program, friends dropped in, including Mrs. Della Pratt who was bridesmaid of Mrs. Phillips in 1905; also Walter Kotter and family of Pacific Beach. This came as a complete surprise to the Phillips.

Refreshments were fruit jello, coffee and the beautifully decorated 3-tier cake, topped with a bride and groom, baked and decorated by Mrs. White who had planned the evening.

The Phillips were married at Ramona on November 22, 1905 and have been residents of Lakeside since 1911. They received many lovely gifts.

The next day, being Thanksgiving, they were invited to the Walter Kotter's home in Pacific Beach for dinner and were joined by the Wilson White's family and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Scheller, who also celebrated their silver wedding anniversary November 21. The Schellers were married in Lakeside in 1925 and lived here many years.

Soon after Diane and her four companions left for Redlands, they were in what could have been a very serious accident but fortunately all escaped unhurt, except for a few bruises and scratches. On the grade above Escondido, the car driven by Eugene Buckel, had a blow-out and overturned four times. The car was badly smashed but a locked door had come unlocked in the accident so that the young people were able to crawl out of it. The other door on Diane's side of the car was on the cliff side so she didn't dare to open it. Mrs. Hayhurst says that only a miracle saved Diane and her companions and that she (Mrs. Hayhurst) is still weak from thinking about it.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY HISTORICAL SCRAPBOOK

Compiled from the historical records of UNION TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY • SAN DIEGO

Signs of early-day San Diego's progress are evident in the above photograph of the northwest corner of Fifth and E Streets, from the historical files of Union Title Insurance and Trust Company. "This building for sale . . . going to be wrecked" proclaim the signs — and wrecked it was. Then the present Watts Building was built upon the site in 1912. Nathan F. Watts, who owned the building shown here, as well as the present structure bearing his name, was the object of a most unusual bit of recognition, for in the lobby of the downtown building is a plaque in his honor, inscribed "To a fine landlord, from his grateful tenants . . ."

The early building housed the offices of the Southern Pacific railroad and the Postal Telegraph Company. At present, the corner is occupied by Robert's Store for Men, and the building is owned by Mrs. B. Teacher.

"Avocado Decline" Foreign Policy Of U. S. Explained

BERKELEY. — Dr. Paul F. Sharp, director of the University of California Agricultural Experiment Station, was in San Diego County early this month to observe injury to avocado orchards by the fungus disease known as avocado decline.

The disease is a serious threat to the root systems of avocado trees. It has caused the decline and death of numerous trees and is found in most of the avocado growing areas.

Dr. Zentmyer, who has charge of research on all avocado diseases not caused by viruses, showed Dr. Sharp the experimental being conducted for control of avocado decline. No satisfactory control has been developed to date.

Irrigation Affects Size of Oranges

RIVERSIDE. — Irrigation and soil condition are the major controllable factors affecting the size of oranges, according to J. C. Johnston, citriculturist of the University of California Citrus Experiment Station.

Mr. Johnston directed a five-year study of sizes of navel and valencia oranges in 429 groves of Ventura, Los Angeles, Orange, San Diego, Riverside and San Bernardino counties.

Irrigation was determined to be the most important factor. Of the small size group only 16% were heavy water users, whereas 36% of the large size group were heavy users. The difference in methods of application and interval between irrigations did not appear to influence size.

Chemistry in ACTION

by Mary Ames Anderson
TRUEBLOOD LABORATORIES, INC.
LOS ANGELES

Are you a coffee fiend? Ever been annoyed by the smug non-coffee drinkers telling you that coffee shortens your life? Here's some nice ammunition to combat them.

Dr. Clyde M. McCay of Cornell University conducted experiments with white rats, giving them freshly-made coffee as their only liquid. For their entire lives, that's the only fluid they got. What happened?

The males lived the regular life span, happy as could be. And the females' lives were "significantly lengthened."

If people react the same way (and there is some evidence they do), they can drink as much coffee as they like without a quiver of conscience.

A new windshield which eliminates one-third of the sun's glare producing rays and one-half the heat rays, was recently reported.

Developed by the Libby-Owens-Ford Company, this new glass has a bluish-green color and a graduated shading along the eye level. The tint in the glass is obtained by mixing iron oxides with the glass during manufacture. The graduated shading effect is a secret process.

The windshields have been road-tested in many parts of the country and results are reported to be very effective.

Facts about your car: The engine in your automobile today gives you 30% more power than the same size engine of 20 years ago. And it gives 40% better mileage.

This is due to the high compression engine and the requisite higher octane gasoline.

If you could store the heat generated by the engine in your car, you'd be able to warm a six-room house in zero weather.

experience destroyed the last comfortable illusion of geographical security. It discredited, once and for all, the doctrine of isolationism.

In the light of that experience, Americans made a radical adjustment in their thinking. They came gradually to realize and to accept the fact that far-off events could affect their safety and well-being.

A crop failure in India, a famine or flood in China, an election in Finland, a murder in Russia—all kinds of events and trends, good or bad, might eventually come to roost on the American house-top. Americans, they knew at last, live and will continue to live in an exposed position.

Having made that radical adjustment in their thinking, the American people began to consider in earnest this problem: how to make their exposed position comfortable and safe for their free society. To that end, they began to plan and build an international community in which people could live in peace, under the protection of law.

The building of such a community is the most ambitious, the most hopeful and the most exciting enterprise on which the American people have ever embarked. It is big enough and hard enough to engage all our energies. If it were not for the threat of aggression, we could concentrate all our energies on that job. We could say that it was, in fact, the substance of our foreign policy.

But unfortunately that is not possible. The Soviet power drive has cut across the course that we and other peace-minded peoples had chartered for ourselves as a hurricane cuts across the path of a ship. It has blown us all miles off our course. It has been a tragic interruption to our progress, a wasteful diversion of our energies.

Nevertheless, we are plowing ahead, breasting the hurricane as we go, holding to our main purposes. What does it mean to build an international community? It means, first, organizing the members to deal collectively with their problems, and to defend themselves collectively against anyone who may threaten the peace and tranquility of the community. So we took the lead in organizing the United Nations and its various specialized agencies. It means, second, repairing the damage of war, so that members in good standing can play their full part in the life of the community. To this end, we took the lead in organizing the Marshall Plan and the relief programs which preceded it.

It means, third, bringing the outlaws back into the community as decent, working members. So we undertook the occupation of Germany and Japan, and the education of their peoples in the ways of democracy.

It means, fourth, helping the people of the underdeveloped regions of the world to pull their standards of living up to a level that modern science and technology have brought within reach of all people. So we have embarked on the Point Four Program of technical cooperation with people who want and can profit by our aid.

It means, fifth, developing a sensible system of trade, so that all members of the community can expect that their work will contribute to a healthy and expanding economic life for themselves.

To this end, we have helped to write an international charter of fair trade practices, and to create an International Trade Organization, where the nations can settle their disputes across a conference table. Through reciprocal trade and tariff agreements, we are gradually opening up the channels of world trade that have been clogged for a generation.

All this is only the bare out-

GOD, ONLY CAUSE

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE THEME

"God the Only Cause and Creator" will be the Sunday Bible Lesson subject in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The Golden Text is from The Acts: "Lord, thou art God, which hast made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is."

A Scriptural selection from the Psalms reads, "By the word of the Lord were the heavens made; and all the host of the sea together as an heap: he layeth up the depth in store-houses . . . Let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him. For he spake, and it was done; he commanded, and it stood fast."

"Divine Mind is the only cause or Principle of existence," declares Mary Baker Eddy in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." She adds, "Cause does not exist in matter, in mortal mind, or in physical forms."

Anyone who can spell knows there is no NV in success.

Do You Want More Highway 80 News?

The El Cajon RECORD, as you will notice, is devoting a page to Highway 80. The decision to do this was taken after interviewing the people of various Highway 80 communities. The feeling is strong in all communities for more adequate news coverage, regardless of whether they are for a newspaper of their own. We feel that Highway 80 needs a newspaper, but (and there is a but in this), how far will the communities on Highway 80 go in supporting a page or a paper? To serve you, we need subscribers in order to obtain a second class mailing permit. Mailing sample copies as third class matter is prohibitive in cost. We need correspondents who will contact us, or Josephine Hodge, on whom the burden of making a newsy sheet rests.

In talking to various business people on Highway 80, we are told that much shopping is done in San Diego or elsewhere, for merchandise that may be obtained at home for less. The reason for that should be plain. If you want to sell a $500 diamond ring for $2, you'll never do it if you keep the ring in your pocket and the market secret. The answer to increased sales, plus shopping at home, depends on how many people know what you have for sale. The way to do that is through your newspaper.

We can assure you that you will have a paper if you will give us your co-operation. You live in the most wonderful spot in the U. S. A. in the matter of climate, scenic beauty and 100% Americanism. Let's get together and let the world know about it.

GUATAY NEWS NOTES

By A. ERICKSON

Most of the residents of Guatay spent Thanksgiving at home entertaining friends and relatives. John, June and Bill Heald served turkey dinner on Thanksgiving at their new home on Rancho Samataguma near Guatay to Mrs. Gladys Smith, Helen Smith, Elmer Heald and Mrs. Dorothy Skillman and son, Bob. Louise McCormick of Guatay spent the holiday at the Coronado home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Williams, formerly of the Pine Valley Lodge. Other guests present were Mrs. McCormick's sister, Mrs. Anthony Mason and her husband; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Way of Coronado, and Mrs. Margaret Ryan, formerly of Pine Valley. (It was really a double celebration, as it was also Mr. Williams' birthday.)

Jimmy and Johnny Reed, Guatay's "very special" twins, were gobble guests on turkey day of Tex and Lois Jones. Mr. and Mrs. Wally Erickson spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Neil Chinn eating and sightseeing. Mrs. Maude I. Bunker was a dinner guest of the Alan T. Baum family. Dr. Hamilton, Mrs. Anne Hurst and Sylvia Evans decided on something "different" for Thanksgiving. They prepared and took with them a complete turkey dinner to Mt. Laguna where they rented a cabin for the 4-day holiday, and spent most of their time riding horseback. Bucky Harris of Pine Valley, has left for Fort Ord to take up his duties again as U. S. Army Master Sergeant. (Good luck and best wishes, Bucky, from the gang.) Mrs. Leland Pratt who is employed in an administrative capacity in the Yuma city schools is spending the holidays at her home in Pine Valley. Mrs. Fred Renneker is in Phoenix, Ariz., caring for her sister, Mrs. Bess Dyer, who has been ill but is now improving. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Anderson and boys of Santee had holiday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Otis Amsden.

HIGHWAY
HI-LIGHTS

OF PINE VALLEY: Things aren't quite the same around Pine Valley with Crickett penned up at the Inn. Since this personable poach returned from the hospital after being hit by a car, the Holts have been keeping him tied up more or less in an effort to teach him to stay off the highway. Now, they are worried lest his rugged individualistic soul may wilt under the strain of the leash. No, Crickett definitely does not prefer the hearth. Dixie, the 12-year-old pony belonging to Kathleen, Marilyn, Trucilla and Alaina Strand, died last week and the girls are quite broken-hearted over their loss. They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Wally Strand. (So sorry, kids.) Campbell Holt spent Thanksgiving holidays with his friends, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown, in San Diego. Mrs. Brown drove up after him Wednesday morning. Mrs. Nancy R. Pearson of San Diego, is spending a month at the Inn as the guest of her son and daughter-in-law, the Oscar Holts. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Powell and two children, Diane and Nelson, Jr., of La Jolla spent Thanksgiving week-end with her mother, Mrs. Clint Hays. The Ballard Ledgerwoods were forced to cut their vacation trip short due to the sudden illness of Mrs. Ledgerwood, who is now at home recuperating. Mrs. Robert Gore, Jr., and her two children of San Francisco, have been visiting her mother-in-law, Mrs. Robt. Gore, Sr. Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Nichols spent Thanksgiving day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Lemmon of Alpine. After having had approximately 21 guests for dinner a year ago for Thanksgiving, the C. C. Maxwell decided to spend this one at home—alone. It has just been learned that young Connie Mulhauser had a birthday last week. How many years, Connie? Five or six? (In spite of Connie's young years, he is away ahead of most of the oldsters when it comes to clever repartee.) Ray and Andy at the store are rushing around like mad, per usual, it seems. Phillip Papin spent last week-end in Whittier visiting relatives.

AROUND GUATAY: As we were about to leave Guatay one day last week, a tow-car stopped at Pearl Reed's and we saw one of the worst damaged cars we have seen yet on Highway 80. Bucky Harris of Pine Valley, has left for Fort Ord to take up his duties again as U. S. Army Master Sergeant. (Good luck and best wishes, Bucky, from the gang.) Mrs. Leland Pratt who is employed in an administrative capacity in the Yuma city schools is spending the holidays at her home in Pine Valley. Mrs. Fred Renneker is in Phoenix, Ariz., caring for her sister, Mrs. Bess Dyer, who has been ill but is now improving. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Anderson and boys of Santee had holiday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Otis Amsden.

Within an area of a half mile, which produced a prize collection of about a hundred "empties," no two tins or bottles of the same brand were found. Who would ever dream there were that many varieties of beer being brewed and consumed in this great land of sunshine and wine? Half-pint whiskey bottles are also very popular, it was noted. And the owners are not stingy when they toss the bottle away with a gallant gesture. Frequently an inch or so of the liquid is left in the bottle, with the top screwed on tightly to preserve it. Apparently these bottles are thrown out gently, too, in respect for the thirsty wayfarer, as most of them light unbroken, with their contents intact. Recently, a small brown sack was lying on the road. In it was a half-pint whiskey bottle but how about telling about it? Did you know that Harry Clark's hobby is working with model trains, and regardless of all the busy hours he puts in the store, he always manages to find several hours a week to work on his hobby, too? What a wonderful spot that is where the Hugh Trails are building their new home! Did you see the members of the Fire Department all posed so prettily last Sunday morning around the tables at the Log Cabin Cafe? Tommy Thompson had wanted to get Mr. and Mrs. Barney Redcliff in the picture, too, but were either one of them around at the time? No, so that's that! And speaking of Tommy, he has shot more than 40,000 children during his photographic portrait career. (Kids are his specialty.) Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Niekell and their three children spent Thanksgiving day in San Bernardino and were in Long Beach following Saturday. Mr. Niekell is a partner with Fred Griswold in the Empire Lumber Co., of San Diego. Mrs. Mike Liebert returned from a visit in San Bernardino and Sunlamp. The E. L. Perrys (of the Mobilgas Station) finished moving in over the week-end. Oh, say, you don't have to be present at the Women's Club card party on February 5th, to win that wonderful cedar treasure chest. Recently, Chas. Crouch bought 120 acres of the DeWitt estate thru Don Bates. He gave 10 acres of it to the Alpine Youth Center. (Pretty nice, huh.)

Stopped at the Antler Lodge, two miles west of Guatay, for a bite to eat recently. It was our first visit there and what a delightfully charming spot it is. The proprietor and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Karns, have been located there 17 months now, he advised us. And say, they serve not only trout, but frog-legs, as well as steaks, etc. Then, too, there are always those egg-nog pies of Mrs. Karns to be had, for which she has become quite famous. (P.S. A recent guest there was Morton Downey who had dinner with a party of friends.)

ALPINE ECHOES: Don't forget the Artists and Writers Club art exhibit to be held Saturday and Sunday (Dec. 2-3) at the Women's Club. And say, ladies, don't forget the sewing classes which meet every Thursday from 12 to 4. It's continuous depends upon full attendance, you know. By the way, all you Girl Scouts and Brownies, what are you doing to keep busy these days? Plenty, no doubt—

ALONG THE WAY...

By JOSEPHINE HODGE

Mailing Address: Mountain View Ranch,
Route 2, Box 751, El Cajon, Calif.

THE TIME HAS COME, the walrus said, to speak of many things! For when one begins traveling along Highway 80 afoot and is dependent at times on kindly motorists passing by for a lift, then one learns about many, many unusual things of which to speak—or to write.

For instance, as a roadside traveler of two weeks' experience now, it has been discovered that the choice drink of motorists along the Highway is beer—all kinds of beer. Their tastes are not limited to one particular brand, for there are empty cans and bottles of all known makers, as well as scores of heretofore unheard of—spread along the way.

Within an area of a half mile, which produced a prize collection of about a hundred "empties," no two tins or bottles of the same brand were found. Who would ever dream there were that many varieties of beer being brewed and consumed in this great land of sunshine and wine?

Half-pint whiskey bottles are also very popular, it was noted. And the owners are not stingy when they toss the bottle away with a gallant gesture. Frequently an inch or so of the liquid is left in the bottle, with the top screwed on tightly to preserve it. Apparently these bottles are thrown out gently, too, in respect for the thirsty wayfarer, as most of them light unbroken, with their contents intact.

Recently, a small brown sack was lying on the road. In it was a half-pint whiskey bottle tightly capped to protect the three inches of liquid inside. The bag, bottle, cap and contents were picked up from the road and placed gently alongside the side on a mound of grass. Three hours later, as we returned, the bag was in the same spot, the whiskey bottle was resting on a stone a foot away still tightly capped—but empty! Near the bag was a mouldy penny.

Apparently motorists on Highway 80 like to eat their breakfast while en route. Egg and milk cartons and breakfast food boxes led the list in food "empties" in this area. Just how driver and passengers manage to prepare and eat this combination while on the road is beyond our comprehension. Other food "empties" included a decapitated catsup bottle, a punctured grape-fruit juice container and an ever so smoothly "peeled" sardine can. Whoever handled that sardine can was an expert, and that's a fact.

Now, after a thorough survey a la foot of the Highway from Pine Valley to El Cajon, it has been concluded that for advertising purposes, it would be most beneficial and profitable for the consumer and the manufacturer if the food, drink and cigarette companies of the country would simply drop samples of their products along the roadside at intervals for the benefit of the walkers along the way. This would not only be a new and entirely different kind of publicity stunt, but it would be appreciated by the weary tramps. The word would spread and soon folks from all over the country would be hoofing along here for a free sample, and—(Whoa! We thought we really had a good advertising idea when we started that last paragraph, but having built it up to that last sentence—we have concluded maybe we'd better stop right now!)

dogs. They had quite a time climbing all around yon hills, it was reported, and came home with any number of scratches, too. B. C. Daniel has lived along Highway 80 around Fairview for over 30 years—that is truly a record! That was quite a muddy story Wes Williams was telling at Elva and Andy's the other night. During the recent rainstorm he and his wife, Thelma, started home from the gas station. Driving up the lane to their home the car got stuck in the mud up to its fenders. While Wes started out to find someone to pull 'em out, Thelma waited in the car. Soon a car came by and pulled her and their car out, and when Wes came back there wasn't any car. Then Thelma spent half the night looking for her husband to tell him where the car was, while Wes was roaming around in the opposite direction looking for her. That was certainly a wonderful turkey dinner, ye reporter had at the Whitney's recently. If little Bonnie Jean Wigren, formerly of Alpine, continues progressing so quickly with her nip-ups and dance steps, it looks like she will have an excellent career ahead of her in the dance world. Little Betty Righenour's preference in the grocery store these days is not candy, but Lava soap, of all things.

Masonic Club Has Banquet and Dance

Members of the Mountain Empire Masonic Club met last week at the Pine Valley Inn and discussed further plans for their annual Christmas banquet-dance to be held December 18 at the Inn.

There will be a big tree beautifully decorated for the occasion, plus plenty of food and lots of music. A good time is anticipated by all members and their wives.

Real Estate Active
In Alpine Area

The real estate turnover in Alpine is quite active, judging by the reports from Don Bates office. Recent transactions of that office include the following:

Robert and Edna G. Hada purchased three acres on the South Grave road in Alpine and plan to build a home there; Mr. and Mrs. Temple D. Smith now own eight and one-half acres on Arnold way having purchased this property from Charles DeWitt; Mr. and Mrs. Archie Rowley have bought a log cabin home on Highway 80 in that vicinity, formerly the property of Al Barger; Mr. and Mrs. Leary Cordleone now own Dave Hixson's rock home.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Kelley have bought the four bedroom studio home in Alpine Heights from the Judd estate; Don Bates purchased Lots 5 and 6 from Paul Mirabile on Highway 80 for future development, and an acre from that beautiful section belonging to the DeWitt estate, for a cabin site.

Attend Forest Service

Dance at Camp Elliott

Over 200 members of the Forestry Service and their wives attended the potluck luncheon and dance given in their honor at Camp Elliott Friday night, Nov. 17. Among those who attended the party were Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Nichols of Pine Valley and Mr. and Mrs. Al Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brittain and Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Seibold, all of Descanso.

Tim Holt To Lead
El Centro Parade

Tim Holt, the movie actor who has a home in Pine Valley, will be grand marshal of the Christmas parade in El Centro on the evening of December 1.

Last Saturday the popular Western movie star was honored in Imperial Valley communities by a special Tim Holt Day. He was met at the city limits by a group of Los Vigilantes, and entered the city under police escort. At 2 p.m. Tim made a special broadcast in the town, and at 2:30 p.m. the party left for Calexico and Mexicali. At the border, a beautiful horse was waiting for him, provided by the Los Charras, a Mexican riding group, and a horseback ride followed.

Mrs. Byron Gray of Descanso, and Mrs. John Topfitt of Alpine, were Tuesday luncheon guests last week at the Antler Lodge on Highway 80, west of Guatay.

Several weeks ago it was announced in this column that a list of the officers and teachers of the Sunday school would be published. Those serving at the present time are as follows:

Kennedy, Ridings, Minchow, Dunham, Desmond, Williams, Alexander, Howard and Brannon. Junior Department: Teachers, Mmes. Roberts, Sr., Lyons, Spencer, Claycomb, and Messrs. Barker and Lyons. A meeting of these workers was held Thursday evening at the minister's home on Lindo Lane. Plans for the Christmas program were on the agenda. The above will hereafter be carried at the head of this column. Not because anyone has so far taken exception to our philosophical ramblings, but because one might as well be prepared and who can tell what we might say some time. We almost wrote an article this time to say why we are convinced of a planned Creation by a sentient Deity in which the principal analogy was that of a man from Mars viewing a pool table after the game had finished, knowing nothing, of course, of the game or how it was played. The conclusion could have offended no one but some of the arguments and examples might have been thought unorthodox by some of the faithful. Or we might give forth on our ideas of education, love, the state of the nation, or the sex life of the oyster. You can never tell what a fellow will do once he gets a sheet of white paper into a typewriter and lets his mind start rambling. So, with the above, no one can get the axe but us.

And by the way—what of our public? Does anyone ever read this stuff? If so—why is everyone so quiet about it? If I can't get someone upset or make someone happy I must be doing a poor job. So argue with me—give me hell, if you like, but let me have your reactions. Otherwise it's a little like talking into a well—it may be brilliant but it gets a little monotonous.
